

An Other's Lens

By Virginia Nazarea

This module will actually begin the week before it is scheduled to run, when students receive instructions for the following week's assignment. The instructions will tell students to visit a place of their choosing and describe what they see, hear, smell and feel. The next step is to bring another person to the same spot and record his or her thoughts.

~~For the next week, the students will have one week to complete both~~
