Infectious Disease Module

This module is designed as an activity to demonstrate epidemiology, transmission of disease, disease mortality. This activity will allow a better understanding of the role of disease in the history of war, sedentarization. It will allow the application of the concepts of immunity, resistance, and physical and social environment to these processes.

This module contains:
TA Instructions
Handout masters
Exercise masters
Overhead transparencies to demonstrate the activity

Additional materials:
3 drawer infectious disease equipment

Advanced Preparation
TA should be familiar with the concepts.
Make copies of handouts and exercise.
Review activity instructions (run-through before class helps)