Information and Rules for
50th Anniversary
Lambda Alpha Founder's
Student Paper Competition

The topic of the paper can be about any subject in the four fields of anthropology.

Submissions should be single authored papers and represent the author's original work.

The papers will be reviewed by a panel of four judges.

The identity and academic affiliation of the paper authors will not be known to the judges.

Papers will be ranked according to subject, purpose, and writing skill.

Winners will be announced in early to middle June 2018.

Paper entries must be submitted from current students actively pursuing an undergraduate degree or graduate degree in anthropology in a department with an active Lambda Alpha chapter.

Submissions from students that have graduated before 2018 will not be accepted.

Paper Format: typed, double spaced, 1-inch margins, 12-point font, numbered pages.

Please include a title page with the following information: paper title, author name, chapter, faculty sponsor, department, university, author's email address and faculty sponsor's email address.

Paper length: undergraduate student paper entries 15 page maximum, including references cited.

Graduate student paper entries: 20 page maximum, including references cited.
